

The Innkeeper states his conditions. The first was that the bridegroom had to remain in the girl's family. Siu Jee agreed to that since he's homeless. As for the dowry, Kum Yu mentioned to Siu Jee that it would be very attractive. Siu Jee would be able to get 5 thousand teals of silver. They'll marry two days later. Since they're now a family, the innkeeper made Siu Jee work for him.

Upon seeing the way Siu Jee worked, the Innkeeper was afraid that he would offend the customers so he had him perform another task. Siu Jee was sent to buy some food and pay tributes to the dead in the hills.

